

TRAVEL+LEISURE

The New Hotels You'll Want to Book in 2018

New construction, renovated properties, all-inclusive resorts, an English manor house, luxury tents, and tiny pod rooms are among our long list of new hotel openings for 2018.

BY PATRICIA DOHERTY

Décor, whether decidedly modern or historic restoration, is receiving much attention, as are spectacular views and rooftop areas. Uninspired hotel restaurants are becoming a thing of the past as hotels work with recognized chefs to create unique dining experiences and inviting cocktail lounges.

Many of the hotels are destinations in themselves, and others will have you planning a trip to experience the property and explore a new country, city, or even just a different part of town. So, read over our list, take out your calendar, and start thinking about your 2018

The LINE DC

Washington, D. C.

The 220-room hotel, housed in a neoclassical church, includes three restaurants, two bars, a coffee shop, a live broadcast podcast network, and a rooftop with views of the Washington Monument.

Opening: January 2018

Price: From $268